

-----Original Message-----

From: Deborah Kiley [mailto:DeebDocBar@aol.com]

Sent: Thursday, June 29, 2006 12:43 AM

To: Public Hearing

Subject: Wal-Mart in the business of banking

Dear Chairperson Blair,

I am writing to you about my concern on WalMart trying to get into the banking business.

My concern is that a corporation this large would have far too much power if allowed into the business of banking. We have already seen what it has done across the country as well as overseas. Although it is impressive it is also frightening for one corporation to be so powerful. We have already seen WalMarts aggressiveness in the retail industry. It comes just one step short of devouring everything in its path on the avenues it pursues. Controlling money is not an avenue we as consumers should allow it to walk down. WalMart says that they will not enter into "full Service Banking" but, if they are given the first step what is to stop them from doing so?

I thank you for your time and hope you take what I have written into consideration on this subject.

Sincerely,

Mrs. D Kiley